With funds donated to COAST TO COAST FOUNDATION, Officer MacLeith purchased a train ticket so this homeless man could return home to a new beginning. You make this possible. Being good stewards of donated funds is paramount. The team never buys bus or train tickets without first confirming that the individual will have a place to stay upon their return.

NEXT ISSUE: In 2018, two HTF officers found a couple with a small child living in their vehicle. The action taken by the officers changed the lives of this little family. You will hear their story.

A grateful client dropped off the note below. Helping homeless individuals with meaningful housing is fraught with challenges and setbacks. As such, WE SAVER EVERY VICTORY. Enclosed with the note were four handmade face masks, the patterns of which can be seen in the background. This was actually the second gift the team received from this grateful Mom. The first, homemade toffee, did not last long at the PD.

FURNITURE DONATION MAKES NEW HOME COZY

Periodically, the HTF is offered donations of furniture and other items. Because we do not have storage, the timing has to be right for us to accept such donations. Fortunately, a recent offer was perfectly timed for a Mom and baby (right). As luck would have it, the donation included a wooden high chair, something this little guy will be using in the near future.

HTF Coordinator, Catherine Lukehart, conscripted her sister, Loretta, to help move the donated items into the client's new apartment

SGT. ARCHER takes a break from his HTF duties to give the Girl Scouts a tour of the PD

Lt. Dereszynski and the HTF case managers tour a motel that is being used to house medically fragile and elderly individuals during the pandemic. The purpose is provide a safe place for quarantine.
